Salute Personnel

Salute carefully selects team members from among military veterans and personnel experienced IT and data operations. We ensure they have all necessary data center skills and knowledge through our structured assessment and training program. As a result, we have the best multi-skilled operators (MSOs) in the industry. Salute personnel are also able to rely on a robust, proprietary software platform that incorporates a knowledgebase, training resources, procedural checklists, and tools to ensure complete, accurate, and documented performance on site.
